Within the Word - Listening to God's Word

Friends, it's good to be back home. I'll be honest, being away for 4 weeks wasn't the easiest thing for me but I'm glad to be back in Lyndon Station and 'working' again. Thank you for all your prayers and thank you for your support; it has been a blessing to have time to rest and recoup from last fall. I'm sorry I haven't been able to communicate much lately, as this was intentional. I also have a different cell phone number, so if you'd like to communicate with your pastor, email and the parish phone numbers are the best way.

Although, I can't share in great detail how I'm doing medically; (because it's annoyingly complicated) I would share that I'm on my way (doctors' words) to a good recovery. With that being said, I'll forward what my neurologist told me last week; he said he likes what he sees but I'm in this for the long haul and that my progress will take time. He lastly said that I'm right where he'd expect me to be, for a substantial recovery. Again, thank you for all your prayers and get-well cards.

Friends, I'd like to address St. Paul's letter to the Corinthians. He talks about the responsibility of preaching the Gospel and what it costs. Paul addresses his people in a very strange and abrupt way. He admits an obligation has been imposed on him. And that he must deliver the message if he is to participate in its promise. If I may, I'd like to quickly point out how strange this shouldn't be...of this incredible responsibility to share the message. Paul is talking about the same thing, that all ordained ministers face... and that is to preach the Gospel of Jesus Christ with abandon.

Preaching is central to spreading the message of Jesus Christ to the faithful. And every one of us, baptized in Christ has that responsibility to do so as well. Not only do we have an obligation to share the good News, we also have an obligation to listen to it...Listening takes an active and intentional decision to pay attention, and take in the words that are being sent from heaven -they are God's divine and powerful words by the way. Take time this week to listen to God's Word...it's the way in which he Heals, creates and restores all that it touches...

LENTEN OBSERVANCES

1. Catholics who have celebrated their 14th birthday are to abstain from meat completely on Ash Wednesday, all Fridays during Lent, and Good Friday.
2. In addition to abstaining from meat, Catholics who have celebrated their 18th birthday, until their 59th birthday, are to fast on Ash Wednesday & Good Friday.
3. A recommended fast: 1 small meal in the morning, 1 meal at lunch & 1 small meal in the evening. The two small meals together should not equal the size of the regular meal.
