“Jesus took Peter, John, and James
and went up the mountain to pray.

While he was praying his face changed in appearance and his clothing became dazzling white.

And behold, two men were conversing with him, Moses and Elijah,

who appeared in glory and spoke of his exodus
that he was going to accomplish in Jerusalem.

Peter and his companions had been overcome by sleep,
but becoming fully awake,
they saw his glory and the two men standing with him.”

Saints in the Season of Lent

There are a number of influencing characters in the history of salvation. We remember two of them in the season of Lent. They are St. Patrick (17th March) & St. Joseph (19th March). Both the saints have something to teach us in the season of Lent as we celebrate their feast.

St. Joseph, a man of Silence & Contemplation - Even though there are a number of life lessons we learn from St. Joseph, Saint Joseph teaches us about the value of silent contemplation, an essential aspect of prayer, during Lent and always. There are no recorded words of Saint Joseph in the Gospel. He was a man of action. This is not to say the man never spoke! Silence is a form of asceticism. It's not so much an emptying but an active listening to God who in silence speaks. In 2005, Pope Benedict stated that in a world like ours, which does not foster quiet and recollection, we all need to be "infected" with St. Joseph's silence so that we can hear God's voice.

St. Joseph, a Blessing for the Family - "Joseph," which etymologically comes from the Hebrew "to add" or "to increase." For Joseph, it was not added personal blessings or even added personal sanctity he received to show off to the world, but rather Joseph "increased" glory always for those around him first. In his case, always directing his energy toward Mary and Jesus. His entire life focused on loving the people right in front of him: his wife and his son. His total commitment and sacrifice was a Blessing for the Holy Family and it is another lesson for us in the season of Lent.

St. Joseph, a man of Righteousness - St. Joseph shows us how to be a "just man" (Matthew 1:19). To be just means to be "righteous" or in right relationship with God, in short, to be holy. Lent is a season of training in holiness and Joseph shows us what holiness is. It's to "ad-just" ourselves to God's will, something that he constantly did and teaches us to do.

St. Patrick is another significant saint whose feast we celebrate this week. He too has some lessons to give us in the season of Lent.

St. Patrick, another Moses - Moses was called to deliver the people of Israel from the hands of Pharaoh. God prepared him for this special mission from the beginning. It was a deliverance from the slavery. St. Patrick too was called to deliver the people of Ireland from various evil bondages. He too was prepared by God from the beginning. Lent is a time of preparation to get ready to be sent to save others.

St. Patrick another Joseph in the Old Testament - Joseph is a great character in the Old Testament. He was sold by his brothers and was taken as a slave to Egypt. God had a plan for him. He could save many people including his family from famine. God had a plan for St. Patrick as well. God sent him ahead to Ireland as a slave, to get ready for the mission. Lent is a time to discern the plan of God that he has for each and every one of us.

St. Patrick a Shadow of Jesus the Great Teacher - The methodology Jesus used to teach the people was very effective. The parables, traditions, seasons and occupations were some of them. Jesus used them that people could understand the message very clearly. St. Patrick too was a great teacher that the way he explained the mystery of Trinity with the metaphor of shamrock is tremendous. More than everything his humble and simple way of life was a greatest method of teaching to the people.

The season of Lent invites us to imitate St. Joseph & St. Patrick to learn some good values to make the season meaningful.

Know Your RCIA

During the final period of their formation those wishing to enter into full communion with the Catholic Church are lovingly entrusted with the Creed and the Lord's Prayer. These ancient texts have always been regarded as expressing the heart of the Church's faith and prayer.

The Creed, as it recalls the wonderful deeds of God for the salvation of the human race, suffuses the vision of the elect with the sure light of faith. The Lord's Prayer fills them with a deeper realization of the new spirit of adoption by which they will call God their Father, especially in the midst of the Eucharistic assembly.

The Creed is presented on the third week of Lent after the first scrutiny and the Lord's Prayer is presented on the fifth week of Lent after the third scrutiny. Both the scrutinies and the presentations happen during the Liturgy of the Word, after the readings and the homily.

The scrutinies mark the catechumens and candidates period of purification and enlightenment. The scrutinies are celebrated to inspire in those a desire for purification and redemption by Christ. By this means, first of all, they are gradually instructed about the mystery of sin, from which the whole world and every person longs to be delivered and thus saved from its present and future consequences. Second, their spirit is filled with Christ the Redeemer, who is the living water (gospel of the Samaritan woman in the first scrutiny on the third Sunday of Lent), the light of the world (gospel of the man born blind in the second scrutiny on the fourth Sunday of Lent), the resurrection and the life (gospel of Lazarus in the third scrutiny on the fifth Sunday of Lent). From the first to the final scrutiny the elect and the congregation should progress in their perception of sin and their desire for salvation.

The priest concludes the scrutinies by inviting them to remain with us in prayer with the following words: Although you cannot yet participate fully in the Lord's Eucharist, stay with us as a sign of our hope that all of God's children will eat and drink with the Lord and work with his Spirit to recreate the face of the earth. During Lent, let us as a Faith Community support each other with our prayers realizing that we all are on the same journey of purification and enlightenment.
