Jesus came, although the doors were locked,
and stood in their midst and said, "Peace be with you."
Then he said to Thomas, "Put your finger here and see my hands,
and bring your hand and put it into my side,
and do not be unbelieving, but believe."
Thomas answered and said to him, "My Lord and my God!"
Jesus said to him, "Have you come to believe because you have seen me?
Blessed are those who have not seen and have believed."

Called to be the agents of Mercy

We celebrate Divine Mercy Sunday this week. The image of the Divine Mercy of Jesus, whose heart shone two rays, one red (representing blood) and the other "pale" (symbolizing water), with the words "Jesus, I trust in you" at the bottom, is as revealed to St. Mary Faustina by Jesus. She wrote in her diary that Jesus told her, "I promise that the soul that will venerate this image will not perish".

The English word, mercy, goes back to the Latin: misericordia, which is composed of two words. "Cordia" is familiar to us from such words as "cardiologist" and "cardiac." It means heart. The first part, "miseri" refers to suffering. Mercy, then, means to have a heart for those who suffer or, more precisely, to have a heart willing to suffer for others.

As we have reflected the mercy of God throughout Lent, It's time to think why we need to show mercy to others. Rick Warren highlights four reasons to show mercy to others,

1. Show mercy to others because God has been merciful to you: The Bible says that God is merciful. It is emphasized all throughout the Bible. There are literally hundreds and hundreds of verses that talk about God's mercy and his love, his compassion, and his grace. Ephesians 2:4-5 says, "God's mercy is so abundant, and his love for us is so great, that while we were spiritually dead in our disobedience he brought us to life with Christ. It is by God's grace you have been saved". The point of that Scripture is this: God wants me to act in the same way to other people.

2. Show mercy to others because God commands you: In Micah 6:8, God speaks through the prophet to give us three big instructions for our lives. "The LORD has told you what is good, and this is what he requires of you: to do what is right, to love mercy, and to walk humbly with your God". God says if you want a summary of what life's all about, and if you're going to be in his family, this is what's required of you: You need to do what is right with others, to love being merciful to others, and to live humbly in fellowship with God. One third of God's requirement for you on this planet is to learn mercy. Why? Because God is merciful.

3. Show mercy because you will need more mercy in the future: You're not going to be perfect between now and when you get to Heaven. The Bible tells us we cannot receive what we are unwilling to give. James 2:13 says, "You must show mercy to others, or God won't show mercy to you . . . But the person who shows mercy can stand without fear at the judgment". Don't you want to be able to do that on judgment day? To be able to stand without fear on judgment day? It says the person who shows mercy can stand without fear on the judgment day. It isn't the people who have kept more rules than anyone else who get to face their eternity with the greatest confidence. It is believers who have shown mercy to other people.

4. Show mercy because it produces happiness: Showing mercy brings happiness. The Bible teaches over and over that the more merciful I am, the happier I'm going to be. Proverbs 14:21 says, "If you want to be happy, be kind to the poor; it is a sin to despise anyone". Being kind to other people actually blesses you and makes you happier in life. And mercy certainly produces greater joy in those to whom you've shown it. Would you rather live in a world that is harsh or a world where the people around you value mercy? You get to help shape a world of mercy around you and allow more people to find freedom from their past when you're willing to show mercy.

Let's be the agents of Mercy by seeing miseries of people through God's eyes and be a vessel of God's Mercy to all those longing for inner healing.
